The Great Debate... a woman's place is in the 'House'

On Friday 4th July 2008, the sports arena in Canberra will be packed to the rafters with devotees of the 10th Annual AIM Women in Management Great Debate luncheon.

An iconic event on the Canberra business circuit, the Great Debate always promises to entertain, by taking a light-hearted approach to what is otherwise a serious management topic.

More than 800 business women (and men) annually book their diaries for this luncheon debate, and this year is no exception.

Determined to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the event in a big way Lillian Lesueur, General Manager of AIM ACT said "In marking this milestone, we have chosen the topic "A Woman's Place is in the House". Professor Stephen Parker, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Canberra, will Chair and Debaters this year include:

- Brigadier Lyn McDade, Director of Military Prosecutions;
- Ms Patricia Scott, Secretary, Department of Communications, Information Technology and the Arts;
- Ms Katy Gallagher MLA, Deputy Chief Minister; and
- Mr Ross Solly, ABC Radio Presenter.

"The response to date has been extraordinary" according to Lesueur, "everyone seems to be talking about it, but we are quite used to that as previous topics have included "Career Management is for the Birds", "Work-life Balance is a Fad", "Women Coach, the Boys Play Games", "Women lead with Emotional Intelligence" and last year's "Female Hormones Promote Peak Performance".
